Says Bormann Dead

Capt. Hanna Reitsch, above, German aviatrix, who flew the last Nazi plane out of Berlin, told U. S. counter-intelligence investigators that the missing Martin Bormann joined in a death pact with Hitler a few hours before the fall of the German capital. She gave a graphic description of the final hours of the fuhrer and his companions, though she did not witness the "suicide". Bormann, who is dead according to the captain, is now being tried in absentia by the allied military tribunal at Nuernberg.

PA NEW OBSERVES

William F. Long and Harry C. Miller, of R. D. 1, returned Monday from a hunting trip to Mayburg, Forrest County, on which Mr. Long bagged a 125-pound 8-point buck.

A grouse hunter for 13 years, W. A. Gibson, of the Mercer-Grove City road has failed only once to bag the state limit of eight birds. That year, wet weather was a handicap. H. B. Westlake, North Center street, Grove City, who hunted with Gibson this year, also bagged the limit in this difficult sport.

Down on South street there is a building that is rather a curious combination of the past and modern times. Still partly to be seen across the top of the building is a sign that reads "carriage and wagon shop". Down in the first floor rooms is to be seen a modern welding plant in operation, with its brilliant lighting effects.

Work has commenced razing the double frame dwelling situated at 663 and 665 East Washington street. At 665, Joe McCaskey maintained a barber shop for quite a number of years. The Gulf Oil company, whose gasoline station adjoins the frame building, has acquired the property and will use the space for enlargement of the station.

Tomorrow is the fourth anniversary of the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japanese, which caused the United States to enter the second world war. One good way to observe the date is by purchasing additional Victory bonds in the present campaign.

Saturday is the date for the collection of waste paper in the city and it may be the last city-wide collection for a long time. Get the paper tied up in bundles and place them on the curb for the collection.

"Mercury" in the huge thermometer on the public square, recording progress in the individual types of bonds, is about ready to burst thru the top. It has now reached about $2,900,000 and the top of the thermometer is only slightly above this amount.

Numerous minor skidding accidents were reported in the city this morning, and falls by pedestrians were also recorded, as a result of travel conditions.

Ray Lindsey, 1811 East Washington street, was successful in bagging a four-point buck, weighing 125 pounds dressed, in Elk county, Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Auto drivers encountered the first really bad driving conditions of the winter this morning, due to icy conditions of the streets and highways.

General Motors And Strikers To Resume Parley

Negotiations In Strike Situation Being Renewed At Detroit, Is Announced

REACH DECISION AT PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The CIO-United Automobile Workers and the General Motors Corporation today will resume negotiations in Detroit on "all points in dispute," CIO President Philip Murray announced in Pittsburgh.

The announcement came as a surprise and was a closely guarded secret, with CIO spokesmen denying knowledge of a conference with General Motors officials, UAW leaders and representatives from the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union.

There were no strings attached to the agreement to reopen the discussions and all points, including the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase, will be taken up.

Over 10 Billion Sales Recorded

Victory Loan Drive In Nation Is Near Goal Of 11 Billion Dollars Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The treasury announced today that total sales of all classes of securities in the Victory Loan stand at 10 billion, 223 million dollars.

Corporation sales of six billion, 187 million dollars swelled the national total close to the 11 billion dollar goal to be reached by formal end of the drive Dec. 8.

Meanwhile, the sales to individuals were "over the top" on the four billion dollar goal, with four billion 36 million dollars already subscribed. Of the individual sales figure, which is included in the grand total, one billion, 114 million dollars was in E-bond sales.

The E-bond national quota is two billion dollars.

Mussolini Sought Peaceful Gesture To Hurt Roosevelt

Thought Only War Outbreak Would Result In Roosevelt's Third Term Election

By PIERRE J. HUSS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NUERNBERG, Dec. 6.—Allied war crimes prosecutors disclosed today Benito Mussolini strongly favored a peaceful gesture by the Axis powers before the outbreak of the Polish war to assure the third term defeat of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Captured shorthand transcripts of a 1939 meeting between Adolf Hitler and Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano showed the now-dead Duce felt Roosevelt could win only in the event of world-wide conflict.

Ciano told the impatient Hitler, the notes disclosed, that if the democracies were driven into a corner by the Axis, Mussolini was convinced they would fight.

Would Shrink From War

Brushing aside Ciano's objections, Hitler was said to have replied he was absolutely certain the Western Powers would at the last minute shrink from entering a general war.

As British Prosecutor Col. Griffith Jones traced the Nazi blueprint of aggression leading to seizure of Danzig and the outbreak of the war with Poland, the Tribunal announced it would recess from December 20 to January 2.

The recess would permit adequate defense preparations by the 20 high-ranking Nazis on trial for their lives, the court declared.

ALLIED SESSION FOR SINGAPORE

BATAVIA, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Dr. Hubertus J. Van Mook, acting governor general of the Netherlands Indies, left for Singapore by air today to attend a conference of Allied leaders.

It was believed the conferees will discuss the present situation in Java as well as future Allied procedure in Indonesia and Indo-China.

Report Great Britain Will Get Huge Loan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The United States was reported today to have agreed to grant a four billion, four hundred million dollar credit to Great Britain.

The Anglo-American talks on post-war financial agreements were said to have been successfully concluded when the British finally gave in to U. S. demands limiting the use of the main part of the credit.

The talks began on September 12, just a few days after the United States shut off lend-lease arrangements and forced recipient countries to seek a new method of credit dealing.

Find Husband Guilty Of Attempt To Have His Wife Murdered

BELVIDERE N. J., Dec. 6.—(INS)—Pinch-faced, bald James C. Gibbs, 56, well-to-do Johnsonburg farmer-banker, today faced a possible 15-year prison sentence for "advocating" the murder of his wife.

Convicted by an all-male jury which recommended mercy in the unique wife-murder plot, Gibbs' fate rested with Judge Clark C. Bowers, who said sentence would be passed December 19.

Frank Schlosser, co-defense counsel, said after court had adjourned that a new trial would be sought and, if necessary, an appeal would be taken.

Can Get 15 Years

Under the law, the slender, bespectacled Gibbs can draw a penalty of 15 years imprisonment, a fine of $5,000, or both.

When the jury announced its verdict, Gibbs' only display of emotion was a noticeable blanching of his face.

TOKYO, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Prince Fumimaro Konoye, twice-premier of Japan and close adviser to Emperor Hirohito, was named for arrest as a suspected war criminal today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Marquis Koichi Kido, resigned Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal, also was named on a new suspect list issued by Gen. MacArthur's headquarters.

The two men were the highest-ranking members of Japanese aristocracy yet to be designated as suspects by MacArthur.

Some Of Views Of Nation's Press On President's Labor Dispute Proposals

(International News Service)

Following is the way the nation's press received President Truman's plan to establish fact-finding commissions to consider future labor disputes with a view to avoiding strikes:

New York Herald Tribune—"As an interim solution for the present crisis, this (President Truman's) fact-finding proposal is sensible and skillful. As a long-term solution of the labor issue it opens more question. . . . The best possible means of avoiding the ultimate result would be the prompt acceptance of the president's interim proposal, a return to both work and production, and a consequent proof that the more drastic legislative straitjacket for which the president asks is unnecessary."

New York Times—"In our opinion, there is a better way for the administration and congress to contribute helpfully to a solution of the present problem than by enacting at top speed—even before the Christmas recess, Mr. Truman proposes—a law whose application to all key industries generally has never been studied carefully. This way would be not to enact a new law but to repeal and repair some old ones."

New York Daily News—"Now that the president has started a real attack on the problems of postwar capital-labor relations in the United States, we hope some real progress toward solving those problems can be achieved. The way to achieve it would be for congress to dig into the matter from all possible angles, bringing in, in short, a frank, constructive, nationwide debate on strikes, their causes, and their possible cures."

Philadelphia Bulletin—"Not much foresight is needed to predict that differences will arise over what are

Admiral Halsey Assails Armed Forces Merger

Army Proponents Of Merger Of Armed Forces Are Strongly Attacked

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Admiral William "Bull" Halsey bitterly assailed army proponents of a merger of the armed forces today, charging that "their method of trying to put it over is un-American, un-democratic, and damn dangerous."

Absorb Navy?

The famed former commander of the Third Fleet urged the Senate Military Affairs committee to consider whether the merger proposal "is a planned attempt to absorb the navy."

Halsey declared that adoption of an "ill-conceived and untested" plan for establishment of a single department of national defense "may leave us stripped of a vital part of our national defense in the future."

"Even if the army project had merit—which I fail to see—their method of trying to put it over is un-American, un-democratic and damn dangerous," Halsey asserted.

Disquieting Statements

He said he had heard "disquieting statements" from proponents of the merger "which lead me to wonder what's behind the mirage of merger."

"What are the proponents—who so insistently advocate its adoption—attempting to camouflage?" he asked. "Is it a planned attempt to absorb the navy?"

"Is it the army's desire to possess

Governor Urges Support Of Kenny Polio Fund Drive

Contributors May Drop Donations In Yellow Boxes To Be Found Throughout City

In a statement concerning the Kenny Polio fund now being organized in Lawrence county, Governor Edward Martin said today: "Infantile paralysis, dread disease which claims young children as its principal victims, leave behind crippling deformities.

"To give these innocent sufferers hope for normal lives and happiness, the Sister Elizabeth Kenny foundation was established in 1942, and is now launching its second fund appeal."

"December 8 will be observed in many communities as Sister Elizabeth Kenny day. The citizens of Pennsylvania are asked to help in this final drive. I strongly urge that it will be given generous support in order to make the Kenny treatment available wherever infantile paralysis strikes."

Bright yellow boxes are being distributed throughout the city, in which contributors may drop their donations. On the containers is the slogan "Sister Elizabeth Kenny day" and a picture of a child, and a quotation by Bing Crosby, national chairman of the drive: "And they shall walk, and they shall play, and they shall live healthy, normal lives if you will go—Will you go my way, all the way in the fight against infantile paralysis?"

Murray would not discuss what took place in the two hour meeting. A statement issued by the union said:

"At the request of Philip Murray, representatives of the UAW, UMW and General Motors met in Pittsburgh with the purpose of exploring the status of negotiations between parties. Arrangements have been made to continue collective bargaining negotiations in Detroit today."

The meeting was the second within a week in Pittsburgh for Thomas and Reuther on the General Motors situation. They met with the CIO chief last Tuesday.

After the conference the General Motors delegation returned to Detroit and Pressman went to Washington. Reuther addressed a mass meeting at Buffalo and then returned to Detroit. Thomas went to either Washington or Detroit.

the right to pass on the navy's expenditures by gaining a two-to-one vote in the department of defense? Do the proponents of this revolutionary scheme plan to establish air power solely as an arm of defense?

Wildcat Scheme

Halsey declared that "To plunge into this wildcat scheme, which has proved unsuccessful in the history of war, might well invite disaster."

"To assume that this 'strange marriage' will bring about greater efficiency is pure bunk," he charged.

The complex administrative problems which would arise from this superficial union might easily mean that we would be there 'last with the least'.

"In any event, it would probably mean 'confusion slightly organized'."

The five-star admiral said that the navy and carrier aviation would "suffer immeasurably" under the proposal to merge the armed forces.

He took issue with army proponents of the plan who declared the battleship is "obsolete" and cited naval victories in the Pacific as examples of importance of seapower.

gress outlaw labor unions or forbid strikes, or pass a compulsory arbitration law. He is proposing that the basic principles of the railway labor act be extended to capital-labor relations in other industries. There are better ways than strikes to settle labor-capital disputes."

Washington Post—"Confronted by a choice between the chaos that threatens us from prolonged industrial warfare in key industries and a mild form of government intervention that might, indeed, have far-reaching consequences, we conclude that the cause of free enterprise is best served by intervention of the kind suggested."

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph—"What the country vitally needs is not just an alternative for strikes, which union might take or fail to take according to the prevailing whim. It needs a permanent system of impartial and compulsory arbitration, which should make strikes impossible as well as unnecessary. President Truman acknowledged this as our national need in principle when he said: 'when labor and management cannot compose their differences, the public through the federal government has a duty to speak and act.'"

Pittsburgh Post-Gazette—"The president's plan is no cure-all nor is it compulsory arbitration—which neither labor nor management wants. There are probably union leaders and company managers who are sure enough of the law of the jungle. They would like to battle it out to a finish. But the public won't tolerate a performance of that kind and has no intention of definitely playing the role of an innocent bystander. It has been looking to President Truman to do something. His proposal holds promise of worthwhile results if the pattern of the railway disputes act is followed. This means not only as to form and procedure, but as to intent."

Pittsburgh Press—"In our opinion the blustering Murray and Meany speeches will rally overwhelmingly support to Mr. Truman. Congress will pass the legislation asked for by the president and the American people—including great numbers of labor union members—will welcome the action."

1941 Hawaii and Panama "were the great outposts of our continental defense."

He disclosed that troops in the Philippines were "no adequate no defense against a first class power was conceivable."

"It was just a useless sacrifice," he said.

The minutes of a staff meeting on Feb. 19, 1941, recorded that the cavite anchorage at Manila had "not one" anti-aircraft gun for defense.

He revealed that the army had transferred 18 anti-aircraft guns from other units in order to "get them out to the Philippines" where a "very archaic plan" was then in effect.

Transfer Guns

Before the 18 guns could be placed in the Philippines the Navy took 16 of the weapons for battalions on Wake, Midway and other islands, and the Army memo stated, "left us with two."

Marshall told the committee every effort was made to speed production of pursuit planes and that thirty-one P-36 fighters were sent out by aircraft carrier in the spring of 1941 and production was stepped up on the improved P-40 pursuit planes, equipped with leak-proof gas tanks and improved fire power.

The problem, said Marshall, was how to build an army, meet the equipment requirements at the Philippines, Hawaii and Panama, and still furnish material to the British in their coming crisis."

"Then," the sergeant continued, "I replaced Nagashi and he made the American sit near a foxhole with his hands behind him."

"I stood behind him, lopped off his head with one stroke and he fell into the hole."

lips. His tiny, 80-pound wife Mac, whose murder he was accused of plotting, burst into tears.

"I'm crying because I'm so overjoyed," she sobbed. "God could not do any more for me than this. I could hug and kiss everybody."

During her testimony, it was charged that Gibbs had hired Frank Whitman, negro handyman, and State Trooper Albert E. Green to get rid of Mrs. Gibbs.

Accused of Paying

Gibbs was accused of giving Whitman a down payment of $100 and reportedly paid $500 to Green to do the job.

Prosecutor Saul N. Schechter told the jury Gibbs had a "diabolical mind operating to destroy the woman who bore him a son and with whom he lived for 36 years."

Gibbs 36-year-old son, James Jr., testified in his father's behalf, contending his mother and Whitman had "framed the case."

His mother, the younger Gibbs said, had schemed for two years to get rid of her father. He said he was "upset" with his mother "for life" for refusing to forgive Gibbs.

Gibbs, who did not take the stand in his own defense, was arrested on September 4, the night his wife allegedly was to have been choked to death.

Until his conviction, he had been free on $100,000 bail. He was remanded to jail pending sentencing.

ESPIONAGE AGENT GIVEN SENTENCE

Spain and now a resident of New York, was identified at the trial as the American counter espionage agent who cracked the ring—after being trained for four months as a spy by the Germans.

The trial revealed that the German agents sought to gather information concerning battleship X (the South Dakota) built by the New York Shipbuilding Corp. of Camden, N. J., the French liner Normandie, and the "Killer," a secret weapon, the operation of which is still being withheld by the War department.

Loan campaign will receive a silver loving cup. The cup would look good in Lawrence county, Lawrence England, co-chairman of the campaign, said today.

Lawrence county solicitors are doing a grand job. All they need to do now to assure Lawrence county of first place in the "E" bond race is to put on that extra pound of steam.

Tomorrow, December 7, would be an excellent day to put out that little extra. Four years ago tomorrow the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor and catapulted the United States into the war.

Garden Council Program On "Christmas Arrangements"

Nearly 100 members of the garden club of Lawrence county and guests attended the program and tea given Wednesday afternoon in the guild room of Trinity Episcopal church when they heard Mrs. Louis Heller, Jr., of Youngstown speak on "Christmas Arrangements."

Mrs. Heller spoke to an attentive audience as she told the principles around which she builds her arrangements. She demonstrated with evergreen doorway swags table and buffet arrangements.

She finds wire hangers bent to the desired shape useful as bases on which to build swags, she told her audience. These can then be built out to any desired width to correspond with the size of the opening to be decorated.

Starting with a wooden candle board as a foundation, she used white tapers of varying heights—evergreen branches of differing shapes, heights and leaf textures to build up a very effective table arrangement.

For a number of arrangements with evergreens, she finds seed pods painted white more effective than silvered pods or leaves, she said. But sparkle and glitter should be stressed in making Christmas arrangements. In one designed for decoration of a coffee table, she highlighted a white ceramic Madonna.

To look for beauty is the key to making an effective arrangement, she said in conclusion.

Mrs. Heller was assisted by Mrs. Fred C. Falls.

Mrs. Fred Sontum, program chairman, introduced the speaker. Mrs. Robert W. Lamoree presided.

Walls of the guild room were decorated with a profusion of evergreen boughs from the grounds of Mrs. Allan W. Umson arranged by her and Mrs. J. Russell Umson.

To open the program the group

Mail By Rocket?

British scientists now say that it would be a "practical impossibility" to establish a 5,000-mile-per-hour "rocket post" between England and the United States. After all that has been done with rockets since the first V-2 fell on London, who will say that they are wrong?

The possibilities are dazzling for the trans-Atlantic correspondent. In something less than an hour letters could be whisked across the ocean by this means.

But some mild doubts are being expressed about this rocket mail affair. For those really in a hurry, a cable or a telephone call will take a message across the Atlantic even faster, with no doubt as to where it will arrive. A rocket's flight, as it is recalled, is a shade on the erratic side. Many Americans might not care to have the British firing rockets at them, even though they were only filled with mail, and no doubt the British would be still more nervous over the possibility.

Of course, the scientists may come up with rockets which can cross the Atlantic and land safely and precisely on the spot at which they are aimed. But there is another objection which may be raised. One of the charms of a trans-Atlantic correspondence now, for a languid letter-writer, is the knowledge that there will be a comfortable lull between letters.

How will anyone get caught up with the mail if reports come rocketing back the same day letters go out?

Atomic Possibilities

The most vivid imagination struggles in vain to comprehend the meaning of some of the testimony now going into the record that is being compiled by the special Senate committee investigating atomic energy. No one, for example, can actually visualize the United States holding at atomic war that might wipe out 40,000,000 American lives.

Yet it is possible for the human mind to think in these terms. As Mr. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who directed the atomic bomb project, demonstrated before the committee the other day, General Groves said that a future atomic war might cost this country the extinction of 40,000,000 Americans. Then he went on to say that the surviving Americans would retaliate and could win the war.

He did not offer this possibility as a prediction, but presented it in answer to a question as to what conceivably could be ahead in the atomic era. His reply, nevertheless, proves that it is not beyond human intelligence to conceive of horror on a scale transcending all experience in the past.

A struggle that would erase a quarter of the population of the United States, and with it the cities in which these people live and the factories where they work, could only be a catastrophe to victor and vanquished alike. Nor is there any excuse for accepting the defeatist philosophy that mankind cannot find the means for assuring its survival. The way will be found because it must be found.

Longer Beds

H. T. Foster of Saint Louis seems to be a man of unusual understanding. Whether he acquired it from experience is not revealed in news stories which do not disclose his height, but evidently he feels a deep sympathy for his fellows who happen to be taller than the average.

Mr. Foster, in Chicago to attend a meeting of the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers, spoke out boldly in his capacity as chairman of the organization's metal bed and bedding committee. He recommended that the association begin a campaign to get the cooperation of the wooden bed, sheet, blanket and comforter industries to set up a new bed length at least four inches longer than the present standard.

"American beds," said he in arguing for a standard mattress of six feet, six inches, "have always been too short for people who are six feet tall or more, and there are quite a few of them. Besides, people get longer when they lie down."

There is profound truth in that last observation as all long-legged individuals know to their cost. Any six-footer who tries to stretch out in a standard bed finds that he touches at one end or the other. This is bad enough in summer, but in winter, when the covers press down on toes that will stick up, it is unbearable. The only solution is to double-up like a jack-knife, which may or may not give him the rest he needs for his health and happiness.

There may be opposition to Mr. Foster's proposal on the ground that longer beds will cost more. But he can count on the good wishes of a host of Americans who have never enjoyed equal rights in the matter of comfort in bed. To them he is a champion indeed in a cause well worth the winning.

Reorganizing Executive Branch

Senator Harry P. Byrd of Virginia has been a consistent proponent of reorganization of the Executive branch of the United States Government. As such he has been one of the most ardent opponents of bureaucracy among our national leaders. His latest effort—legislation now pending in the Senate—will be commended by every thoughtful American.

His proposals would initiate sweeping changes for economy, efficiency and simplicity.

It is apparent that the war-inflated Federal government needs reorganization now more than ever before, but Senator Byrd has kept the emergency in mind while planning for reorganization of a constructive nature.

Federal civilian personnel at present totals 3,649,990 as compared with 932,000 in August, 1939—and with 917,000 on Armistice Day, 1918. Under the Byrd proposal, federal payroll could be reduced by at least one million employees—thus saving two billion dollars or more at a time when common sense calls for drastic cuts in Federal expenditures where possible.

It is amazing to learn from Senator Byrd's report to President Truman that there are more than 348,000 civilian employees outside the continental United States.

In his basic approach to the critical situation, Senator Byrd outlined fields of activity to which reorganization can be applied for the mutual benefit of both the public and the government, and set out four steps required for a logical approach to the issue. He would—

1. Place all executive agencies under cabinet control.
2. Provide uniformity within departmental organization.
3. Effect consolidation and coordination throughout the government.
4. Recommend additional legislation terminating all remaining unnecessary activities, appropriations and personnel.

In stating his basic formula, Senator Byrd has only begun to fight for a cause dear to many of his fellow citizens.

He deserves unified public support for his efforts.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Political Break Is Seen In Strike Move

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—President Truman's request for legislation limiting the right to strike marks the beginning of a political break which promises to have far-reaching significance for 1946 and 1948.

Support for Truman within the CIO and the PAC already had been greatly weakened. Now within the inner councils of both organizations they are studying how best to reject their program of political action for the next three years.

There are big questions to be answered and grave doubts to be resolved. Many influential leaders in the CIO have all along had doubts of the strategy in the General Motors strike. President Phil Murray is said to have wanted to wait until after the first of the year at least before pressing any action against either steel or motors.

GM employees are almost certain to reject the president's request to return to work. Their leaders have pointed the way to refusal.

May Be No Strike Gain

But what is worrying CIO leaders is whether any possible gain can come out of the strike against America's largest corporation. GM can afford to be completely independent and even indifferent over the outcome.

The excess profits carryback which will be in effect through 1946 practically guarantees the corporation profits regardless of whether GM plants are shut down by strikes that is for 46.

So far as the balance of this year is concerned, the excess profits tax would in any event claim most of any additional revenue gains in 1946. That goes for all large corporations that have had large profits.

As it works out, the corporation can get only a small percentage of the cost of a strike. Say, for example, that a company has accumulated $10,000,000 in excess profits. Under the tax law 85 per cent of this could be paid over to the treasury in excess profits tax.

Loss Is Lowered

But if the company has a strike loss in the same year of $1,000,000, the actual loss to the company is only $145,000. Because of the loss suffered in the strike the treasury would not get the balance of $855,000 at the 85 per cent rate.

Wages Reduced, savings won't keep GM's competitive edge. It would mark to force GM's competition in the race to get into production in a highly competitive market the company could not stand up. That was the theory.

It is not working out that way. GM parts plants which supply most of the industry with essential parts are also being shut down. But that may be the end of it.

With a thoroughly disorganized plant, a new machine might be needed. It is not working out that way. GM parts plants which supply most of the industry with essential parts are also being shut down. But that may be the end of it.

May Break Union's Power

There are indications that industry, or some important segment of industry, believe that this is the time to break the power of organized labor. It is not surprising that industry has never so long ago been so active in the past.

Industry presents a united front. Neither is talking about collusion and violation of the anti-trust laws. In the old New Deal days this talk might have produced action or a threat of action from Washington. But that day is gone.

"American beds," said he in arguing for a standard mattress of six feet, six inches, "have always been too short for people who are six feet tall or more, and there are quite a few of them. Besides, people get longer when they lie down."

There is profound truth in that last observation as all long-legged individuals know to their cost. See Need For Change In U. S. Labor Laws

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The unfavorable reaction of the labor politicians of all factions to President Truman's proposal in his Monday message is a convincing demonstration of the union attitude. They have become so accustomed to complete White House support that the moment a President takes the public view in an industry-labor controversy and acts in the public interests, they regard it as a hostile move and their spokesmen begin to rant about the "right to strike."

They insist that the presidential suggestions are "oppressive" in their nature and start shouting about now in the present General Motors strike their efforts to effect a settlement by negotiation and arbitration had been rejected. It is revealing that the bitterest denunciation in Congress came from Representative Marcantonio, of the Communist-dominated American Labor party, who denounced the Truman plan as "oppressive legislation." Of course, it is nothing of the kind. All it is in the first effort in two years by a President to hold the balance evenly between the union and employer, reduced the method of peaceful settlement, against the facts and protect them to the public before a strike is called.

IT, OF course, can be said that the proposal made by President Truman is a "right to strike" law. But it is not a "right to strike" law. It is a law to protect the public interest. It is a law to protect the public interest. It is a law to protect the public interest.

When there is more than the usual delay in serving the public, we know that the forces laid to be washed to be brought in again.

Methodical may have lived five times as long as you will, and he had five times as many younger generations to worry about.

It is better to sit in the back row and be disappointed than to sit in the front row and be disappointed.

It was the first time I got a job. It was the first time I got a job. It was the first time I got a job.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—"Please do a very good deed," writes M. H. S., who would speak out in her own name if required. "Please do a very good deed. Print the letter enclosed. Butchering Time Here Again For State Farmers

Seven Hundred Thousand Pigs To Go Under Knife On Farms

In Lawrence County as elsewhere throughout the state, farmers are sharpening their knives and getting the pots and pans ready for the annual winter pig butchering that will continue heavy through Christmas and into January.

With an occasional baby beef shown in, hundreds of thousands of spring pigs, fattened to the right proportions, will go under the knife to supply the state with pork for the winter.

Pig Crop Smaller Than 1944
Although this year's spring crop in the state of 410,000 pigs is 28 per cent under the 1944 crop, they will be supplemented for butchering by a few animals remaining from the crop of last fall. Some early 1945 summer pigs will also be slaughtered.

The butchering of 200 to 250 pound porkers will provide plenty of pork for the farm families, but since this year's crop is seriously under the 1944 surplus lot, there will be less pork filtering down to the city consumers.

Direct Buyers May Get More
Those customers served direct by the farmers—at their homes or through the farmers' markets—may expect more fresh and smoked sausage, scrapple, pudding, spare ribs, fresh hams, shoulders and loin cuts during the next few weeks. "Country cured hams" will continue scarce for the city folks.

Youth To Assemble At Second Baptist

Particular attention is invited to all types of pistols represented by the Mauser machine pistol which can be converted from semi-automatic to fully automatic by pressure upon the lever or button, that came from abroad. Forms can be obtained from W. F. Cunningham, New Federal building, Pittsburgh.

PLANNING SAVES TIME IN DAIRY OPERATION

Careful planning of winter chores can save time and labor for the dairy farmer.

Use of trucks for handling feed and ensilage makes work easier, eliminates many needless steps and reduces the time required for feeding the dairy herd.

Other conveniences can be applied to grain feeding, some of which are estimated to save the farmer as much as 75 miles of shoe walking in one winter.

One such time and step saver is an arrangement by which grain feeds are mixed up stairs and carried by gravity down chutes to bins in front of the cows.

Compartments in the bins provide for several different kinds of feed. If bins are kept off the floor about three feet and equipped with a hog self-feeder type of opening at the bottom, a lot of stooping will be eliminated.

Careful planning of these details not only saves time and labor, but will enable the dairyman to handle a larger herd and do a better job.

Veterans Advised On Conversion Of Life Insurance

Informative Statement Is Made By Local Representative Of Veterans Administration

In an effort to clear up some of the misinformation which disenchanted veterans are receiving, relative to their national service life insurance, Worrell M. Jones, local representative of the Veterans Administration here, has issued a statement which outlines the provisions of the G. I. bill in regard to this insurance.

The question is asked "What briefly are the veterans' rights under national service life insurance?"

Answer Is Given

The answer is given by Mr. Jones as follows:

"For a period of eight years from the original date of national service life insurance issued before December 31, 1945, a veteran may continue paying the same premium per month for the same protection he had when in the service. This gives the veteran plenty of time to make up his mind what sort of permanent policy he desires when he converts his term insurance."

"On converting, the veteran may choose from one of the three national insurance plans: ordinary life, 20-payment life or 30-payment life. The converted policies have a cash value, a loan value and an extended insurance clause. It also guarantees a life income to certain beneficiaries in the permitted class."

"After separation, a veteran does not have to carry the full $10,000 policy, nor does he have to convert the total amount. When converting a veteran may convert in multiples of $500 up to $1,000 as the minimum. In other words a policy may be had for $1,000, $1,500, $2,000, etc. There is no red tape. A veteran sends his premiums by check or money order made out to the treasurer of the United States, to collections subdivision, Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C."

"The nearest Veterans Administration office will have conversion forms and complete information."

Turkeys Plentiful For Yule Dinners

There is no need to worry about the procurement of a turkey to grace the Christmas dinner table for not only is the supply ample to provide plenty of meat for the Yuletide season, but families who want to purchase several of the birds for future winter eating may do so, according to reports from the state capital.

Turkey growers are prepared to meet the demands of hotel restaurants and private individuals with the biggest turkey crop in the history of the state. Production this year totals 1,670,000 birds, 30 per cent higher than in 1944 and the fourth consecutive year that the state has gone over the million mark in turkey raising.

The Keystone state ranks first in turkey production, and eighth in the nation. California leads the country with over four million of the forty-four million birds raised.

French Zone In Germany May Now Be Isolated

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Secretary of State BYRNE revealed that the United States, Britain and Russia are discussing a separate agreement on control problems in Germany, which may isolate the French zone of occupation.

Byrnes' comment resulted from a new conference question regarding France's apparent refusal to get together with the United States, Britain and Russia in putting into operation the transportation and currency agencies.

Byrnes said that transportation was the more important of these.

City Leads In Veteran Payments

Out of fourteen cities in District No. 1, New Castle received the highest number of veteran checks during the week ending November 30. Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer, announced that 36,092 checks for returned veterans were issued under the Service Men's Readjustment Act. The total disbursed was $1,937,600. The city of New Castle received 377 checks totaling $7,540.

State-Grown Yule Trees Claimed Best

When you go shopping for that evergreen tree for Christmas use it would be wise to buy a Pennsylvania-grown product. Forests and Waters Secretary James A. Roll, asserts.

Many carloads of trees arrive in the state every year from New England and Canada, but these trees have been cut earlier, whereas the state-grown evergreens are ordinarily cut after the first of December.

It is reasonable that the trees cut later will remain fresh and look nicer for a longer period of time. For the first Christmas in five years

Accidents Down In State Industry

During the first ten months of 1945, figures show that industrial accidents in the state have decreased without the aid of a war hanging over our heads, a fresh, home-grown Christmas tree will undoubtedly add to the feature of the surroundings.

Statewide Industry, Both Manufacturing and Non-Manufacturing, Increased Some Thirty per Cent in October over the September Figure.

Many of the accidents were the result of over-loading, crowding and loose equipment, and also the use of unsafe tools and equipment. The overall increase, however, shows that industry is being urged to state-wide heads connected with industry.

Ex-Servicemen Do Fancy Cooking In Pittsburgh Now

Chefs At Recent Banquet Were G.I.'s Learning Civilian Cooking Again

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Association of Chefs, many of them ex-G. I.'s, tossed themselves a banquet the other night—to take the taste of army food out of their mouths.

Incidentally, the association also aims at opening a vocational school for good cooks. After all, as they point out, chefs came from Europe before the war and now Europe hasn't any food to cook.

The membership includes the kitchen chefs of Pittsburgh's hotels, better restaurants and private clubs. Among them is Paul Laescke, president of the association, who put the ham and eggs in "K" rations. He is a canned food company official.

Another member, John Haupt, ex-army mess officer, said the ordinary run of cooks is OK with "us meat and potato men, but would be lost in the kitchen of the elite, where even plain food gets a fancy name."

Haupt, a captain for five years, is back at the University club and just as happy as any former pfc.

Chief Chef Otto Spilbacher, of the University club, has two other ex-servicemen working as cooks. They are Frank Hopkins and Steve Saffo. All three are learning fast after taking up where the army left off.

Gilbert Serres, an ex-cook for the navy, "works over a hot stove" at the Pittsburgh Athletic club.

In addition, all the leading hotels have ex-servicemen employed in an artistic way in their kitchens.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

daughter at her piano practice. But I doubt whether she is as calm as she thinks she is when her daughter resents her suggestions and corrections. Her very zeal to have her daughter learn well at the piano makes it harder for her to be serene. Almost any mother in her place might meet with experiences similar to hers with that child.

Like ever so many other children who have "played" in their own fashion before beginning instructions on the piano, this child wants to continue in her own way instead of doing the hard work at learning the necessary skills. Many a young child would take to music practice better if he had never been encouraged to play by ear.

Music Teacher
I advised this mother to quit trying to help her child practice but, instead, to have her music teacher two or three times a week supervise all her practice, say for 30 minutes, broken into two periods of fifteen minutes each, with a recess of five minutes between, and to continue this plan for a few months or till such time as this teacher had the child prepared to practice alone only as she had been instructed to do.

I am sure the average child beginning piano lessons, under the age of seven or eight, should be guided in this way. It would be a saving of money and a great gain in music learning. Once the child begins regular practice, it should be done for 15 or 20 minutes a day, or for a number of correct repetitions requiring an equivalent time. Then let the child choose between doing this practice promptly and faithfully at this time and sitting in a chair doing nothing for 60 minutes, not being allowed to practice that day.

He must do some drudgery in order to gain music skill. As he grows in skill, the practice grows less repellent. Eventually, the satisfaction from success may render the practice actually pleasurable.

what they wanted. And as a result of which the employers were pretty heavily penalized in the process.

THE MOST important thing about the Truman message is that it is bound to be followed by congressional action. In the last few years of the Roosevelt administration Congress was anxious to enact legislation regulating unions in opposition. Twice Mr. Roosevelt, by exerting his personal influence, killed in the Senate labor regulatory legislation passed by the House. And finally the Congress had to pass the ineffectual Smith-Connally law over his veto.

FOR THE first time in years, the Congress and the President now see eye to eye on the need for a change in the labor laws. There is little doubt that both House and Senate will go as far as the President has asked. The probabilities are they will go a little farther. At any rate, Mr. Truman has cleared the way for action. Certainly the repeal of the Smith-Connally Act would now seem assured. And it also seems that Congress may be sure that any fair

Coat-Tail Riders Through In State Say Republicans

Will Be No More Coasting Into State Office On A Roosevelt Wave

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—(INS)—High Republican circles expressed confidence today that the GOP will retain control of the state government in 1946 "no matter who the Democrats run."

In addition, a crushing defeat for U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, Democratic incumbent, was predicted if he repeats as the Democratic senatorial standard-bearer.

"It's not a question of candidates this time," one leader declared.

"It's a question of trend—and the trends both in Pennsylvania and the nation are definitely away from Democratic rule."

Doubt was expressed by a GOP spokesman that Gen. Carl Spaatz, of Boyersville, would be the Democratic gubernatorial candidate—possibly in opposition to Philadelphia Republican Jay Cooke, likewise a potential "soldier" nominee.

"General Spaatz knows when he's well off," the spokesman asserted. "He's just as aware as anyone else that the national trend is unfavorable to the Democratic party. He knows he'll be far happier as chief of the air forces—and much more secure."

Another Republican leader emphasized that "the Democrats, and Senator Guffey in particular, are through as 'coat-tail riders.'"

"There'll be no more coasting in on a Roosevelt wave," he said. "From now on, they'll have to stand on their own feet and battle for election on the basis of their qualifications as representatives of the people."

The voters of Pennsylvania, he said, witnessed "more than enough Democratic boondoggling during the Earle administration."

EQUITY SUIT

In an equity suit filed by the National Radiator Company against Donald Soech, Alice Bully, Sophia Bully, Michele Russo, Carmella Russo, John Stanczak, Veronika Stanczak and Edward Pavovar, the company seeks to establish its right to use certain ground at the end of Cass avenue for the erection of a new building. In the suit, it is set out that the property in the vicinity of the plant at one time was owned by the North Pittsburgh Realty Company and that the company purchased most of it. Some lots were sold to the defendants named above.

The defendants claim an easement upon Cass avenue which the company denies. Cass avenue was never ordained and has been used for some 27 years as a road in to the radiator plant. The suit avers that the defendants are attempting to harass and annoy the company in its plan to add to its present plant facilities.

Fourteen acres of land abutting on Wilmington avenue and owned by the county, have been sold to the Recreation Board for use in the recreation plan of the city. The price paid was $1,350.

93 1/2 PER CENT TAXES PAID
Approximately 93 1/2 per cent of the 1945 county taxes have been paid according to County Treasurer Frank W. Hill, an unusually high figure.

Cpl. John McKeever In Advanced Studies At French University

Air Force Technician Pursues Education At Biarritz, France

A Ninth Air Force headquarters in Bad Neustadt, Germany has announced that Corporal John R. McKeever, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Leslie of Glenmore boulevard, has finished a six weeks liberal arts course at the army study center at Biarritz, France.

Corporal McKeever, a technician with the 21st AAA Searchlight Battalion, was selected from thousands of applicants by the Information and Education Command. During the war, Corporal McKeever's outfit was credited with the safe "homings" of nearly 4,000 distressed Ninth Air Force bombers.

The advanced study centers, part of the expansive army education program, have been established by the theater commander for the benefit of the soldier who feels the need to continue his education and gain professional refresher training while still in the service.

Corporal McKeever entered the service in June, 1943, and has been overseas for the past 14 months. Prior to his enlistment, Corporal McKeever was a student at Westminster college.

Waste Paper Drive Saturday, Dec. 8

Have Your Bundles Of Waste Paper On The Curb Before Noon Saturday

There is a heap of waste paper lying around in the cellars and attics of New Castle homes, most of it either gathering dust or else is a fire hazard. Saturday, Dec. 8, is a good day to rid yourself of the paper and aid some local institutions.

Householders are asked to bundle their paper in bundles not exceeding 15 pounds each. Keep the different kinds of paper separated, newspaper in one bundle, magazine in another, wrapping paper and books in other bundles.

Trucks will start out at 1 o'clock in the afternoon to pick up the paper with Boy Scouts riding every truck. Male adult volunteers will load the paper in the cars on the B & O team track, on South Mill street.

Sometime Saturday afternoon a collection truck will pass your home. Have your papers on the curb before noon.

Waits Year But Gets His Revenge

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—(INS)—William A. Boorse, 72, had to wait an entire year for the opportunity, but he finally got in his "hammer blow" against crime.

Last year, Boorse, who operates a candy store in Germantown, was the victim of a stickup. He suffered a gunshot wound in the leg. Last night two thugs entered the store and he heard the familiar bark, "this is a stickup, give us your money."

Without blinking, Boorse reached under a counter for a sledge hammer he had secreted there for just such an occasion. The hammer whistled through the air straight at the bandits.

They fled just as Boorse believed they would.

Governor Favors Ohio Super-Road

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 6.—At a news conference, Governor Frank J. Lausche asserted that he looked favorably upon a proposal that the Pennsylvania Turnpike be extended through Ohio.

The governor added that the 165-mile super-highway was financed through a toll charged to its users and had given other roads a "tremendous relief" from heavy truck traffic.

HARRISBURG—Bill Zoll, a fireman, went hunting with some companions and near the end of the day's tramp a friend pointed to a rustling bush and urged his friend to fire. Get Better Cough Syrup By Mixing It at Home

Quick Relief. Big Saving. So Easy! No Cooking.

To get quick relief from coughs due to colds, you should make sure by mixing your own cough syrup at home. It's no trouble at all, and you know it's pure and good. It needs no cooking, and it's so easy to make that a child could do it.

From your druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add enough plain syrup to fill up the pint. To make syrup, stir two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup.

or liquid honey, if desired. The full pint thus made should last a family a long time, and gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick results, you've never seen its superior. It seems to take hold instantly, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritated membranes, and helping to clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action on colds, throat and bronchial irritations. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Five Fatal Auto Crashes In Mercer County In Month

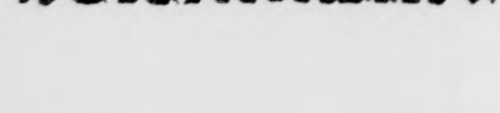

MERCER, Dec. 6.—Five of November's 20 automobile accidents in Mercer county investigated by state police from the Mercer sub-station resulted in fatalities.

The appalling increase in the county death rate has alarmed police, who declare in their report today they will intensify their drive to keep loss of lives at a minimum and will have little mercy on the reckless driver who they claim are usually the source of the trouble.

Total damage in wrecks last month was $8,851, compared to $3,758 for the same month last year. Total damage for 1945 to date in the county is $76,105.

Most of the drivers were in the age group of 21 to 35 according to the report.

Health Talks By Dr. W. A. WOMER, City Health Superintendent

THE TOOL CHEST

Every boy wants a tool chest. Tools are fine things if they are rightly handled and looked after. Sharp tools should always be kept in a safe place where children cannot get them. Each tool should have a place of its own and be kept there when not in use.

They should not be allowed to lie on the floor or on the ground. Too many accidents are caused by people stepping on tools.

Rakes are especially dangerous if left where they may be stepped on. Even a hammer may cause trouble if it hits a finger.

Be sure to put the hammer away and stop knocking anyhow.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. I repeat, many people have to get up at night. I repeat, many people have to get up at night. I repeat, many people have to get up at night.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging headache, rheumatic aches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Ration Boards Being Merged

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Organization of the OPA in Western Pennsylvania has been greatly reduced since the end of rationing, an administration spokesman said today in Pittsburgh.

With sugar and tires the only items still being rationed the district's 63 ration boards have been consolidated into 20 price control boards.

This figure will be increased at the first of the year when the Pittsburgh district will absorb control of the Altoona region's nine counties.

The new price control boards will devote their efforts to making the buying public price-control conscious. They will also continue rationing of tires and sugar.

Geneva 'War Baby' Will Become Junk

GENEVA, Pa., Dec. 6.—A $45,000-10,000 "war baby" of the huge Keystone Ordnance Works, will be just so much junk soon, as fast as decontamination work permits.

The large plant, which manufactured 600,000 pounds of deadly TNT daily, will pass into the hands of the government for disposal as surplus property.

The Keystone plant opened in October, 1942, and at one time employed 1,948 persons.

Tells Of Results Of Atomic Bomb Attacks In Japan

BY WILLIAM L'ESTRADE
U. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)—An American physicist who interviewed the survivors of Hiroshima and Nagasaki revealed today that "radioactive" rays from atomic bombs caused blood to "boil" through the unbroken skin of victims of the devastating attacks on the two cities.

Dr. Philip Morrison, a member of the atomic mission which assessed atomic bomb damage in Japan, painted a vivid picture of the effects of rays from the bombs on human beings for the senate atomic committee.

Morrison said that many Japanese died from the effects of radiation-like rays emitted in great number from the bomb at the instant of explosion.

"This radiation," he said, "affects the blood-forming tissues in the bone marrow, and the whole function of the blood is impaired."

"The blood does not coagulate, but cozes in many spots through the unbroken skin, and internally seeps into the cavities of the body."

"The white corpuscles which fight infection disappear. Infection progresses and the patient dies, usually two or three weeks after the explosion."

"I am not a medical man, but like all nuclear physicists I have studied this disease a little. It is a hazard of our profession. With the atomic bomb, it became epidemic."

Morrison said that many Japanese in Hiroshima and Nagasaki crawled from the wreck of their homes after the explosion of the atomic bombs "relatively uninjured," but "died anyway" from effects of rays from the bombs.

Many Veterans Are Joining 'Y'

Veterans who join immediately after discharge receive free membership and dues exemption for three months. The vets are showing an active interest in the "Y" sports program, participating in the church basketball league, the "Y" house teams and the volleyball groups.

Zionist Group Hears Dr. L. Kohler

Psychiatrist Discharged From Service Tells Of Palestine Situation

Dr. Louis H. Kohler, a psychiatrist and discharged lieutenant colonel of the army, gave one of the most interesting talks Wednesday evening, when he addressed a large crowd at the New Castle Zionist organization, at the Cosmo club.

Dr. Kohler was in Palestine as recent as September of this year, and his talk was of his many experiences there, while serving with the 70th General Hospital.

Tel Aviv, a Jewish city of Palestine is one of the most modern cities in the Near East, and is similar to our large American cities. He spoke in high praise of the Hadassah hospital in Jerusalem, and mentioned its modern facilities and equipment. Dr. Kohler also spoke briefly on the Jewish colonies and their possibilities and future.

The speaker was introduced by Sam Edelman.

J. Ruffell, chairman of the evening, gave a brief outline of the activities undertaken by the local Zionist group this past year, and those to come in the future.

Rabbi Hyman Krash, spiritual leader of the Tifereth Israel synagogue, gave an excellent report on the National Zionist convention held recently in Atlantic City.

Ellwood Sailor Still Missing In Chesapeake Bay

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Ray Fink, nee Angie Port, of Wayne avenue, is still anxiously awaiting word about her husband, Seaman Ray Fink, who sailed out into the Chesapeake Bay in a small dory last Saturday and never returned.

Fink, a member of the Coast Guard, struck out for a lighthouse in the bay where he was stationed, on Saturday afternoon, and although fellow coast guardmen sighted the empty boat sometime later, a thorough search failed to uncover the sailor's body.

Seaman Fink, whose parents live in Nevada, Iowa, was in Ellwood City recently on leave, and returned to Baltimore to receive his honorable discharge, which was due soon.

The maximum information received by Mrs. Fink states that her husband was unable to make the trip to his lighthouse on Thursday or Friday due to the rough waters, consequently he set out Saturday afternoon, about four o'clock. He was sighted by a party of duck hunters, and about two hours later, the empty boat was discovered.

Mrs. Fink is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Port, on Wayne avenue, and will be joined soon by her husband's sister, Miss Larue Fink, recently discharged from the Army Nurse Corps.

"I was Yanked into the ditch," said a young English woman to a policeman making notes of her car's collision with an American truck.

GOOD HEALTH The Greatest Gift Of All

Good health is more precious than jewels . . . more desirable than wealth. It is a priceless gift, and if you possess it, guard it well. Once lost, it is difficult to regain. If people would be sensible about their health, many a tragedy that is in the making for next Christmas would be averted. And by being sensible we mean—see your doctor even when you are feeling well; see him immediately at the first suspicion that something is wrong. Neglect is the thief that steals away life's greatest gift—GOOD HEALTH.

Job Placements Total 419 Here For Last Month

Leading all other offices in the area for the past three months, with the exception of Pittsburgh, the local U. S. Employment Service office reports that 419 persons were placed in jobs during November.

The total includes a large number of factory and construction work jobs, some railroad jobs, and some clerical jobs. Among those who found employment were 64 veterans of the present war, the majority of whom went into semi-skilled work. Others were placed in unskilled and skilled jobs, according to George Walter, manager.

Candidates Had Little Expense

November Election Battle Was Cheapest Of Many Years For Local Candidates

Today is the last day for filing election expense vouchers for the election held November 6 and from the expense accounts filed in the Court House it will go down as one of the cheapest elections held in this county in years. From the accounts it appears that the total money expended by all candidates and parties will not exceed $1,200.

The largest expenditure reported was that of the Republican County committee with $1,084.21 spent. Contributions amounted to $2,380. Individual expenditures reported followed:

Judge W. Walter Brubaker, Republican and Democratic candidate for judge, $300. Orville Potter, Republican and Democratic candidate for register and recorder, $275. Leroy K. Donaldson, Republican and Democratic candidate for district attorney, $210. Frank L. Coen, Republican and Democratic candidate for sheriff, $232.60. James Gibson, Republican and Democratic candidate for city council, $217.40. Joseph D. Alexander, Republican candidate for city council, $205. W. W. Moore, Republican candidate for city controller, $175.

The expenditures reported by the candidates, save a few odd dollars consisted of contributions to the Republican county committee. With the exception of the few odd dollars spent by candidates the only money spent was spent by the Republican county committee.

The Christian's Place in Nation's Life

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The statue of Laocoon.

"Blessed is the nation whose God is Jehovah."—Psalm 33:12.

BY NEWMAN CAMPBELL
"The International Uniform Lesson for December 9 is Matt. 5:1 Timothy 2:1-4; Titus 3:1-8; 1 Peter 2:1-7. The Memory Verse being Psalm 33:12. 'Blessed is the nation whose God is Jehovah.'"

The sermon on the Mount was delivered by Jesus near Capernaum. Great multitudes of people had followed Jesus, and seeing this great concourse of people, Jesus went up into the mountain and delivered this beautiful sermon, showing what the Christian's place was in the life of his nation.

"The sermon is a declaration of blessedness, not to certain different people, but to different elements of excellence which might be all combined in one person. Blessed are the poor in spirit, blessed are the meek, blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness, blessed are the merciful, blessed are the peace makers. 'Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely for My sake. Rejoice and be exceedingly glad, for great is your reward in heaven.' Right after the saying concerning the blessedness of being persecuted and reviled for righteousness' sake are the statements that 'ye are the salt of the earth,' and 'the light of the world.' Truly the good man or woman is likely to be persecuted and reviled in this world. His or her goodness—truth, honesty, purity of life, etc., set him apart as a 'different' man. He may be called anything from a hypocrite to a 'snob' for his stand. He can, however, comfort himself by Jesus' saying that he is the salt of the earth and a light in the world.

Let Light Shine
"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." No boasting of the good works you understand, but quietly and steadily going your way so that all may see what manner of person you are.

Then Jesus refers to the old Mosaic laws, and points out that Christians should not only obey them, but go further. The law said ye shall not kill, but Jesus said, "Whoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in judgment." If he call his brother bad names he shall be in danger of hell fire. Under those circumstances, do not make an offering to God, said the Lord. First be reconciled to your brother, and after that make your offering with a clean heart.

Other old laws on family relations, divorce, swearing, etc., are included, and then the old law, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil, but whosoever shall smite thee on the right cheek, turn to him the other also.

"Ye have heard it said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you. 'If you love your friends, what reward does that bring? Everyone does that. To be the children of your Father which is in heaven, you must be good to everyone.' And He makes his own law on the evil and on the good, and sends out on the just and unjust. Think of these last words when you are tempted to retaliate against.

Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

Christian Obeys the Laws
The Christian is law-abiding. Paul in his first letter to Timothy. Our supplications should be given for all men, for kings and for all that are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceful life in all godliness and honesty.

Practically the same thing Paul wrote to Titus, and in Peter's first epistle to the strangers, he also echoes the thought of submission to government. Now there are people who call attention to themselves by always opposing whatever rulers may be in power. They are trouble makers, always, hoping to get attention for themselves by their revolt. This type of person is repudiated by the words of Jesus, Paul and Peter.

"Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers," wrote Paul to Titus, "to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work."

To speak evil of no man to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meekness unto all men.

To the perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect, is almost impossible for human beings, but all can try, and if any considerable number of persons would live as Jesus directed, what a different place this world would be!

Labor Head Calls For Lessening Of Accidents At Work

Campaign Against Accidents Is Most Important In Industry, McDevitt States

HARRISBURG, Dec. 5.—(INS)—James McDevitt, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, today called for a reduction of industrial accidents in Pennsylvania.

Speaking during the annual Safety Conference at Harrisburg, McDevitt emphasized that 2,250,000 workers were industrial casualties in the nation last year and urged greater co-operation between management and labor to effect a model safety program.

"The war on accidents is one of the most important campaigns in United States industry," he declared. "The battle to prevent accidents is far from won but an increasingly successful campaign is being waged by labor and management."

Come From Carelessness. Eighty-eight percent of all industrial injuries, McDevitt added, resulted from carelessness. Earlier, Ned Dearborn, of Chicago, president of the National Safety Council, presented a plaque to Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris to mark the part played by the department in drafting the safety program that has won Pennsylvania honorable mention for the past two years.

Dearborn said an urgent need existed for a co-ordinated safety program to end the "shocking menace" of accidents in homes and factories.

Other speakers included John A. Phillips, president of the Pennsylvania Industrial Union council (CIO); Lester Thomas, of the United Mine Workers of America; and secretary of labor and industry William H. Chestnut.

State Flags To Go To New York Event

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—(INS)—Flags valued at more than $12,000 will accompany Gov. Edward Martin to the annual dinner of the Pennsylvania Society of New York December 8 in New York City.

The governor disclosed that the flags would include infantry, artillery and engineers' flags of the 28th Division and the chief executive's banner.

Adm. Ernest J. King and Gen. H. H. Arnold will be awarded medals for service to the nation.

MERRY GO ROUND POPULAR AS EVER

Was the Merry-Go-Round at Casca Park as popular in the summer of 1945 as it was in Grandpa's day? Apparently so because, according to statistics collected by City Controller Moore 85,371 rides were purchased. Of course, this doesn't imply that 85,371 persons rode the merry-go-round. Some of the kiddies may have rode one of the wooden animals several times. However, from the riders the city's share, 25 percent, was $1,011.70.

Survey Shows Calendars Will Be Scarce For 1946

Calendar seekers are going to have to wait another year before they go "choosing" on the kind of calendar they will accept for 1946. In previous years, calendar fans were able to get just about what they wanted in calendars, whether it was large, small or medium size, but calendars for 1946 will be few and far between.

In making a cross city check of the situation for the new year, it was discovered that many of the business houses, that formerly handed out the time reminders, the majority of them will have no calendars for 1946 but looking ahead to 1947, things will be back to normal, as there will be more paper to use in calendar manufacture.

Even though the war has been over for a number of months, one business man explained that calendars for 1946 had to be ordered early last spring, at a time when the war was at its height. The paper outlook at the time was not too bright thus making the selection very small. Many did not order for this reason.

The trend in calendars for the coming year will be a little on the conservative side with nature scenes and pictures of animals taking first place as the most depicted subjects. Discharged G. I.'s will perhaps not be so much interested in the pin-up type calendar this year as they will be with their pin-up girl in person during 1946.

So if you had envisioned a calendar in every room for the new year, you may have to be content with a couple of smaller ones until 1947 rolls around.

How much light is enough to play solitaire?

Recreation can be anything but relaxing when seeing must be done under inadequate eye-straining light. Then, even playing solitaire can consume as much energy as digging a ditch!

One of the wisest investments you can make for your whole family's enjoyment and welfare is improvement of your home lighting for easier seeing. For such seeing tasks as playing cards or reading, a lamp with a 100-watt bulb is a minimum—a 100-200-300 bulb type much better.

Lighting is cheaper than ever, and besides, the free, unbiased help of our Home Lighting Advisory Department is available to assist you in making the most effective changes.

Box Is Opened
In Mahoning Twp.Court Will Hand Down Decision
Later On Winner Of Supervisor BattleWhat first appeared to be just another election for road supervisor in Mahoning township has apparently developed into a local issue in the township.Today the ballot box of the third precinct of the township was opened and the result of the count shows that Anthony Micco, Republican, wins over Frances D. Gregg, his Democratic opponent by three votes.
The box was opened before Judge John G. Lamore in court room number two.The unofficial count showed Micco to have won by a small majority.
Then Mr. Gregg had the box of the second precinct opened and the official return board showed Gregg winning by a vote of 245 to 244.Open Third Precinct
A petition was presented by Alfred De Bernardo, Joe Donofrio and Pete Bianigione asking that the boxof the third precinct be opened. The official return board showed Gregg and Micco each getting 23 votes.When the box was brought into court this morning counsel for Gregg asked that the box be not opened, citing as his reasons the fact that the petitioners were from the second precinct of the township and therefore not eligible to ask for a recount. This motion the court refused.Attorney Elmer D. O'Neill, Attorney Merl Hildebrand, G. Albert Patterson and James D. Foster, Jr., were named as the return board and proceeded to open the box and count the ballots. Their count showed Micco getting 24 votes and Gregg 20.Counsel for Gregg then asked that the hearing be continued until the precinct election board could be brought in, on the grounds that the box was not sealed according to law.
The court agreed that the seal was not proper, but refused the motion.
Judge Lamore then ordered the count of the board put into the records, ordered the fifty dollars deposited and said he would hand down a decision later.Gen. Hurley Makes Accusation Against
Acheson On PolicyWASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)— Major Gen. Patrick J. Hurley today named Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson as the individual who "destroyed" American foreign policy in Iran.Hurley did not immediately elaborate on his charge, and made it only after being pressed by Sen.
Tom Connally (D), chairman of the foreign relations committee.The fiery Oklahoman also made public at the second day of hearings into American foreign policy, a document, signed by the leaders of the "big three" on Dec. 1, 1943, in which they had announced their adherence to the principles of the Atlantic charter.The committee is inquiring into American foreign relations policy as a result of the explosive charges made by Hurley when he resigned as ambassador to China.The average human body is covered with about 20 square feet of

'Abandon Ship'Coxswain Testifies In Court Martial
Of Commander Of Cruiser
IndianapolisWASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(INS)— Coxswain Edward H. Keyes of Antigo, Wis., testified today that he heard Capt. Charles B. McVay, III, shout the order "abandon ship!"
from the bridge of the cruiser Indianapolis about five minutes before the vessel sank in the Pacific last July.Keyes was the first witness at the court martial of McVay to tell the court that he actually heard the order to abandon ship from the bridge of the vessel during the 15-minute period that she remained afloat after being badly damaged by two explosions.The witness told the naval court that the public address system on the Indianapolis was out of order.
Therefore, it was impossible to give instructions to crew members in the usual manner, he said.The coxswain was serving as boatswain's mate of the watch at the time of the sinking. He said that he heard McVay shout the order to men on deck about 10 minutes after the initial blast.NERVOUS SYSTEM

Equator Flights May Give Clue To Negative Proton

American Scientists To Seek Information About Russian Discovery

By FRANCES MUSIC
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—American scientists will start flights to the equator in April in the hope of making discoveries leading to new sources of atomic energy which Russian experts claim to have discovered.

This was disclosed today by Dr.
Lyman J. Briggs, chairman of the National Geographic society's Research committee and former director of the Bureau of Standards.

Major Cosmic Discoveries

The series of flights from Washington to the equator at altitudes ranging from five thousand to 35 thousand feet were planned prior to reports from Moscow of major cosmic ray discoveries which Soviet physicists said should aid greatly development of atomic power.

Briggs said in an interview that the army already has approved the project which American scientists will undertake as soon as atomparaphernalia is ready. April was selected by the noted scientist as the starting month.

Chief objective of the stratospher-ic search will be to gain more information about the negative proton which Russian scientists believe they have trapped.

Another Energy Source

Its existence makes conceivable another source of energy equivalent to the uranium fission process from which the atom bomb resulted.
Scientists in the United States have searched for the negative proton since 1932 when the positive electron was discovered.

Briggs asserted that the new betatron machine—an instrument for producing light negative particles of such extremely high energy as 100 million electron volts—is a powerful tool for investigating of the nuclear phenomenon.

He said that the particles undoubtedly are present in products of disintegration of air molecules by cosmic rays. One view point is that the rays bombard from outside the globe.

The Soviet press said that Russian scientists' discoveries were made possible through delivery of 50 tons of special equipment to a laboratory erected at a 10,000 foot elevation.

Briggs commented that information regarding discoveries by Russian physicists was too sketchy thus far to evaluate possible strides made in controlling the elements.

Conductor, Aged 85, Completes 69 Years With Erie Railroad

Samuel J. Snyder Believed To Be Oldest Active Erie
Employee

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Dec. 6.— Samuel Johnson Snyder, aged 85, believed to be the oldest active employee of the Erie railroad, completed 69 years of service the other day.

During his long stretch as a conductor, Mr. Snyder estimates that he has traveled over 2,500,000 miles and handled 22,500,000 passengers.
He lives in North Caldwell, N. J.,
Was in 1888 Blizzard

Mr. Snyder was the conductor of the only train to reach Jersey City during the blizzard of 1888. He remembers that about 20 women passengers who could not reach hotels or their homes remained in the coaches overnight. Snyder brought them hot food, tended fires and played host to his charges.

Snyder is the son of a railroad man, and was named dean of conductors of the Erie road in 1941.
He entered the railroad employ in 1876 as a brakeman, and consequently held the jobs of flagman, freight and passenger conductor, stationmaster and again returning to a passenger train.

With a liberal pension, the aged veteran plans to take things easy.
As soon as the travel conditions ease up he is going to California. "And by rail, of course!" added Mr. Synder.

PIN-WORMS At Last— A Real Treatment!

Anyone who has ever had Pin-Worms knows how tormenting and embarrassing this infection can be, and how hard it may be to deal with the creatures, once they get a foothold inside the body.
Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug (gentian violet), a really effective treatment has been made possible.
This drug is the vital ingredient in P.W.,
the Pin-Worm tablet developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. P.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.
So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the annoying rectal itch. And don't delay. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P.W. right away, and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed, or your money back.
It's easy to remember: P.W. for Pin-Worms!

ALUMINUM LACK HITS PRODUCTION
GROVE CITY, Dec. 6.—The Ven-dell August Forge corporation is having trouble getting into the swing of its post-war production, due to a serious shortage of sheet aluminum.

Mr. August states that orders for gift items are flooding the plant, but shipments to former customers are rationed until more material is available.

The August Forge plant was among the early casualties of the war when the metal was frozen for war usage.
